CHINA'S NAVY NOT FEARED

What a Naval Officer Says of the Celestials as Fighters and Sailors.

"The viceroy of China is quoted as saying that he would like to send a fleet to teach the Americans manners," remarked a commodore in the navy yesterday. "I think it would be an admirable idea. We would be an admirable idea. We want more ships and that would be a cheap and easy way for us to get them.

"Suppose that a Chinese squadron should make hostile demonstrations off the Pacific coast. How Just arrived ex Palmas a fine assortlong do you suppose it would take us to gobble it up? A collision once arrived at, it would only be a matter of a few hours or perhaps White Chinese Linen, minutes. We could easily destroy | White and Colored Silk in Rolls the ships, but it would be better to Fine Teas, Fine Manila Cigars, capture them if practicable.

"True, the navy of China is stronger than ours, so far as vessels are concerned. But the finest which we will sell at the very lowest ships in the world do not amount price. to a row of pins without good men to fight them. The trouble with the Chinese is that they do not know how to fight. Furthermore, they are no sailors.

"A sailor is born, like a poet. Some people take naturally to the water like ducks. The Norwegians PALACE ICE CREAM PARLORS are born sailors, so are the Danes and the Finns. We are not such Ice Cream, Sherbets, Sodas, good sailors as they, but we take fairly well to the sea.

"It would not take us long to capture the whole of China's navy. When she fought with the French a few years ago she had some excellent ships of war. They were all taken off-hand. Our own navy is still weak, though we are boasting of it so much, and a fleet contributed by the flowery kingdom would be a very acceptable gift. If it comes over, there is nothing I should like better than to have command of a squadron in Pacific waters."-Ex.
